MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIR AND EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

APRIL WEPPLER AND KATHY ALLAN

This past year has been filled with challenges and opportunities for you as land trusts and for your Alliance.

This annual report talks about the many programs and initiatives that OLTA has been working on with you and for you. Together we are working towards our collective vision of a successful land trust movement.

We have articulated powerful reasons WHY we need to save land. In addition to the known threats to biodiversity, we can demonstrate the connections between land conservation and food security, clean air and healthy children.

We have clear standards and practices that show us HOW to save the land – just ask any of the dozen land trust that have completed the Assessing Your Organization program; and read about the new resources being developed by you as part of the new Best Practices Working Group.

With help from the Ministry of Natural Resources, we will soon have a parcel fabric level map of WHERE all conservation lands are today – a first step to clearly articulating the challenge that lies ahead.

WHO is involved in saving our land? By working together with each other and with partners, land trusts across the province are making great strides in conservation. You each make a unique contribution to your Alliance that when combined, results in greater influence and impact across the province.

WHEN will our job be done? If there is one truth in conservation, it is that we are never “done”. We can take great pride in the work we have accomplished and the differences we have made, and seek inspiration from them to continue to protect Ontario’s land legacy.

Conservation agreements are restrictions on title negotiated between a landowner and a conservation organization. They allow for creative conservation arrangements to be made that will endure beyond the current owner's tenure on the land.

OLTA MEMBER SERVICES

CHAIR, CHRIS BAINES

Phyllis Lee, our new Member Services Coordinator, joined OLTA in August and plunged in to organizing the Gathering, started building our first member database and is providing staff support to member communications and our new Best Practices Working group. Thanks for a great first year Phyllis!

OLTA conservation group membership has grown from 32 to 51 in the first five years of the Alliance; with member fees over $30,000 making a significant contribution to the operations of the alliance.

New members include Lone Pine Marsh Sanctuary Inc. (congratulations on securing your first property, the 124 acre Cold Creek), Lake of Bays Heritage Foundation (only land trust to salvage a boat; they also completed the first heritage building inventory and steward multiple natural heritage properties!) and Otonabee Region Foundation (kudos on excellent stewardship costing on the Leidra-Ardiel donated property valued at $500,000).

As OLTA grows bigger, we are getting better too. This year, the OLTA Board of Governors introduced a new program to recognize excellence in leaders and land trusts across the province. In recognition of the enormous passion and dedication of the land trust movement, OLTA's Community Engagement Award recognized the extraordinary achievements of Couchiching Conservancy.

Couchiching has taken a challenge – being in a smaller community with more finite resources and fewer larger funders, and turned it into an opportunity in connecting so broadly and at such an intimate level.

OLTA'S Vision Award is given to an individual or organization who has displayed extraordinary vision and exemplary leadership. The first award recipient is ahead of the curve in identifying challenges and opportunities, and works hard to develop solutions. Our first OLTA Vision Award recipient Stew Hilts was also the first Chair of the Ontario Land Trust Alliance and “wrote the book” on land trusts, Creative Conservation. Stew is a Professor at the University of Guelph, where he is also the Director of the Centre for Land and Water Stewardship. Most recently, Stew has been working to save Ontario's best places to grow food as Chair of Ontario Farmland Trust.

Assessing Your Organization (AYO) Program

With support from the Ontario Trillium Foundation, the AYO program is assisting every land trust in Ontario to assess their current competence in meeting the Canadian Land Trust Standards and Practices. One third of all land trusts have now completed their assessment. Be sure to ask them how the AYO program has helped their land trust. Congratulations to:

Best Practices Working Group

BARB HEIDENREICH, CO-CHAIR STANDARDS 8-12
CHRIS BAINES, CO-CHAIR STANDARDS 1-7

This interactive committee is charged with providing examples of best practices that specifically pertain to each of the standards and practices. This is accomplished by utilizing state-of-the-art interactive websites and technology to consult broadly across the province with members, stakeholders and experts. With your input to set priorities and expertise to review each tool and template, resources will be helpful and applicable to all, from small, mid-sized to large land trusts.

Fall Gathering

The 2008 Conference was co-hosted by Carolinian Canada Coalition (CCC) and OLTA in London, Ontario in October 2008.

Minister of Natural Resources Donna Cansfield opened the three day conference followed by Dr. Dr. John Howard's keynote address "Ecosystem Health - Balancing Health Care with Land Care."

Ontario Trillium Foundation board member Donna Passmore received thanks from OLTA, CCC and many of the land trusts themselves who have received generous support for conserving land across Ontario.

And many thanks to our sector experts for donating their time and expertise to one on one meetings with land trust staff and volunteers.

- Karen Cooper - Charity Tax Issues
- Ian Attridge - Conservation Easement Agreements
- Robert Orland - Land Acquisition
- April Weppler - Land Stewardship
- Barbara Heidenreich - Land Securement
- David Love - Fundraising
- Dawn Laing - Ecological Gifts Program
- Wendy Cooper - Growing a Land Trust

Another first at the Gathering were the five Regional Forums of Land Between and North, Grey Bruce Escarpment, Oak Ridges GTA, Carolinian Canada and Eastern Ontario. Each region met to discuss the unique challenges they face and discuss possible collaborations for efficiency and excellence in their region.

ONTARIO LAND TRUST ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

CHAIR, ANGUS MCLEOD

Our thanks to Dawn Laing and Andrea Kettle of Environment Canada who serve on the OLTAP committee. Since 2003, Environment Canada has contributed $67,000 to the program. Also, Environment Canada's Habitat Stewardship Program has committed $58,000 to OLTAP next year.

18 individuals/families donated over 1,300 acres of land to Ontario land trusts last year!

"Norah's Island" is a 22-acre island donated to Haliburton Highlands Land Trust by Bruce Carruthers to honour his late wife's wish for the island to remain in wilderness in perpetuity.

Thunder Bay Field Naturalists secured a small island in February 2008, the "Gordon and Elizabeth McLaren Memorial Hare Island Nature Reserve". Gordon McLaren was one of the original founding members of TBFN back in 1933. The couple were both active in the club for many years and were bird watchers, hikers and generally loved the outdoors.

The McTavish Tract, 46 wooded acres near Shakespeare, cared for by generations of the McTavish family, was donated to the Thames Talbot Land Trust in June of 2008. The property includes a variety of habitats such as a mature upland hardwood forest, a cedar swamp and a spruce plantation and features a spring-fed stream that is a tributary of the Avon River one of the sources of the Thames. The McTavish Tract will remain as a testament to the foresight and land ethic of one of our founding families.

The Bruce Trail Conservancy secured the 62-acre Bull Homestead property located just north of Warton on the Bruce Peninsula. Acquisition of Bull Homestead secures 305 m of Bruce Trail Optimum Route along the Niagara Escarpment.

OLTA EXTERNAL RELATIONS

CHAIR, JO-ANNE RZADKI

Communications and External Relations Program

Our sincere thanks to EJLB Foundation, and Helen McCrea Peacock Foundation at the Toronto Community Foundation for their continuing support to heighten the profile of local land trusts and their important work.

Thanks to Minister Donna Cansfield of the Ministry of Natural Resources for inspiring members with her remarks at our annual Gathering and deepening the relationships with landowners and donors by attending Oak Ridges Moraine Land Trust and The Bruce Trail Conservancy special land securement events.

Additional thanks to Ministry of Natural Resources as a major partner on the OLTAP program and MNR field office staff who give generously of their time and expertise to land trust across the province.

Government Relations Working Group

CHAIR, IAN ATTRIDGE

The Government Relations working group met with the provincial registrar of titles this past year to discuss streamlining and making consistent the land registration processes for conservation agreements across the province. While discussions are ongoing, we discussed how best to ensure that our land trust best practice of linking the agreement to the baseline documentation report can be achieved.

The Conservation easement agreement template was completed and circulated at Gathering 2008 to all members - another tool to assist members to achieve best practices in their land securement programs.

As well, the Ministry of Natural Resources has now granted OLTA and its members access to the provincial parcel fabric database, allowing us to see property boundaries in GIS.

OLTAP-MNR has made over half a million dollars in grants to secure 7,761 acres of conservation lands valued at $21 million!

Land trusts help to link public and private stewardship for ecosystem recovery. As registered charities, they receive donated or purchased lands and conservation agreements in important natural, cultural and agricultural areas. These organizations work to achieve a healthy balance between development and conservation in their communities, improving the quality of life in rural and urban areas by preserving natural and cultural heritage.

Finance Report

JOE MCCALMONT, TREASURER

For the third year, thanks go out to the professional assistance provided by our bookkeeper Jean Labrecque.

OLTA revenues reached an all time high this year with a three year $300,800 Organizational Assessment grant approved at the start of the year and a $337,800 Stewardship Fund grant in the last quarter, both thanks to the Ontario Trillium Foundation. Also climbing to an all-time high are OLTAP grants to members, from $142,500 this year to $240,000 next year. The annual Gathering now includes staff time as an expense and is on track to achieve breakeven in the next few years. Although private grants also increased, limited staff capacity led to some of these projects being deferred.

We look forward to next year with over 90% of revenue committed or in hand. All in all, I can report to you that your Ontario Land Trust Alliance is in excellent financial condition.
